We will find an interesting career through the data collected by the recommended system using Multiclass Decision Forest in Azure's Machine Learning.

Learn the theory from experts from the basics to be able to practice in a virtual workshop, which if the learner likes it, can continue to study in the next course but if the learner doesn't like he can change the course with the ability to choose whether to let AI decide or whether to decide for yourself.

Experimenting on the virtual workshop by simulating a virtual game that is similar to a real working process and it is available through any platform to get you ready.

Passing a test to get certificates that can guarantee that you are ready to apply to the job through our contracted company.
